

VNC Is Running Really Slow On My 64-bit Server

Problem: You upgraded your server to a 64-bit OS and you suddenly notice that your VNC is lagging so bad it is almost unusable. You get Real VNC 4.1.1, but you still see no improvement.

Solution: This problem is because the 32-bit version of Real VNC (Which Real VNC 4.1.1 and below are) is unable to install hooks in 64-bit applications. This will make them appear to lag extremely bad. To fix this problem you will need to change that capture method in VNC to “Poll for changes to the Desktop”. You should notice that VNC now performs much faster however be cautioned that this will use up more of your CPU cycles, buy using this method.
